M E I E R, Georg Friedrich - German Philosopher, Mathematician & Astronomer

B. March 29, 1718. Ammendorf nr. Halle
D. June 21, 1777. Halle

The noted astronomer Chr. SEMLER instructed him in mathematics, physics and astronomy. Turning later to Philosophy and Theology he introduced in Psychology certain notions and terms applied by KANT in his first works. Preceding the german poet Lessing he urged the separation of religion and speculation. His dissertation was: "DE NONNUILIS ABSTRACTIS MATHEMATICIS."
